The Siren's Call

Sorry about Cleo's last name, I kind of forgot it. If you know, PLEASE tell me!

Chapter 1

I just sat there, drinking soda when Jesse came to me and sat down. What was he doing here? Was he even invited?

"What are you doing here?" I asked, more like demanded. He just smiled and took a sip out of his wine. How much I hated him.

"I'm enjoying Alicia's engagement party." Jesse answered.

"Alicia hates you." I said. He kept his weird smile and took another sip of wine. I fake smiled and secretly kicked him in the shin. His creepy smile faded away and was replaced with a painful look. He bent down to rub his shin and looked up at me.

"What is the real reason why?" I asked Jesse.

"I overheard Emma talking about you so I decided to visit." Jesse told me. I frowned and I was about to kick him again until I heard Alicia calling my name.

"You're lucky." I whispered to him. Jesse raised his eyebrows. I walked over to Alicia and she took me to a corner and started talking to me.

"I was looking for you everywhere!" Alicia exclaimed.

"Sorry. What's wrong? You seem to be.. Umâ€œ how do I say thisâ€œ sweaty." I told her. She rolled her eyes.

"I'm nervous Cleo! Rory is late! And we are about to cut the cake in five minutes!" Alicia told me. I patted her on the back.

"He'll be here in no time. Don't worry." I told her as I left her in the corner. I looked behind and I saw her fanning herself. Man, she really needs to chill down. At the corner of my eye I saw the beach me, Rikki, and Emma used to dive in and swim. I decided to walk along the shore. As I walked, I heard a splashing noise. I turned around and I saw Emma and Rikki waiting for meâ€œ

*5 months earlier*

I walked inside off the beach house. It was beautiful. I loved it! I had to buy it. It was full of so many good memories, and bad. Rachel, the lady who was showing me the beach house walked up to me.

"Do you like it, Cleo?" Rachel asked me. I nodded.

"I like to buy it." I told her. She gasped.

"Really? O-okay! I need a check please." I gave her my check and she smiled. She walked away. I smiled at my all new home.

*After Cleo unpacked her stuff in the house. One day later*

I walked over to my neighbor's house. It was a much grander house. It was times eight of my beach house. I knocked on the door and a man opened the door. He seemed to be a butler because he was holding a tray of crab cakes and he asked me if I wanted one. I said no. A minute later a boy about my age came downstairs. He was very handsome as in he was H-O-T!

"Hello, my name is Zane." He told me. I thought for a second, could that be.. No. That couldn't be him. The Zane from years ago was so rude.

"Hi, I'm Cleo." For some reason he froze and started to hesitate.

"Cleo Sanori?" He asked. I nodded. "It's me! Zane! Remember me!"
